

Office of the Emperor of Adammia

Decree LXXXV

UPON OUR IMPERIAL MAJESTY'S SOVEREIGN COMMAND,
NOTING that regulations for determining the acceptable level of activity for political parties are outdated and difficult to enforce fairly;
BE IT DECREED as follows:

Section 6 Subsections b) and c) of the General Amendments Act 2018 are hereby repealed. We instead declare that the Office of State may strike a political party from the Political Party Register if that party has not been functionally active within the past three years. For these purposes, being functionally active shall include: standing candidates in Adammic elections; making any sort of official announcement; undertaking any sort of internal activity defined by a party constitution which has been made public; undertaking any financial activity; or any other activity that the Office of State deems appropriate. The Office of State should publicise any removal of a party from the register under these terms, and such actions are subject to judicial review.

This, the eighty-fifth Imperial Decree of Our Imperial Majesty Emperor Adam the First, is decreed at Asquith House in Turing in the Colony of Lagentia, on this the nineteenth day of May of the two-thousand and twenty-third year of the Common Era, and is signed into immediate effect.
